DEATH OF JAMES EVANS, ESQ., A WORTHY CITIZEN AND PROMINENT MASON. — Mr. James Evans, a worthy and well-known citizen, and Past Grand Master of Masons in Virginia, and Past Grand High Priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Masons, died at his residence, on the corner of Grove avenue and Laurel street, yesterof Grove avenue and Laurel street, yester-day morning. He was born in Gloucester, England, March 2, 1800, and came to New York with his father in 1809. In 1819 he removed to this city, and had lived here he removed to this city, and had lived here ever since. He was first with his father in lusiness in the sale of French-plate mirrors, and subsequently himself conducted the crockery business. He was connected with the jewelry establishment of Mitchell & Tyler, afterwards John H. Tyler & Co., for about thirty years, and was known to most of our citizens. Mr. Evans was the second organist of Monumental church, succeeding Mrs. Sully, and filling that position during the pastorate of Bishop Moore. About five or six years ago he and his estimable wife celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. Mrs. tieth anniversary of their wedding. Mrs. Evans died less than two years ago. They had a large number of grandchildren and several great-grandchildren. Mr. Evans ad been a member of Monumental church

for many years. The deceased was a member of Richmond Randolph Lodge, No. 19, having been made a Mason in that lodge about 1836. He was Grand Master of the Grand Lodge in 1850 and 1851 (two terms), and Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter in 1857 and 1858. He had held the office of Grand Lecturer since 1852 until last year, when he peremptorily declined redection. In 1845, at the reorganization of the Knights Templar in Virginia, he was elected Grand

The interment will be made at Shockoe cemetery, and No. 2 Commandery, of which deceased was a member, will form a part of the funeral escort.

CONCERT IN AID OF THE MIDLOTHIAN SUF-FERERS.-The Theatre was well filled last evening on the occasion of a charity enter-tainment for the benefit of the Midlothian sufferers. A lecture by the Rev. Dr. Haw-thorne and a well-rendered programme by some of the best amateur and professional talent of Richmond was given. The en-tertainment commenced with Rossini's Overture to Semiramis, and was finely rendered by the combined Mozart and Theatre orchestras, under the direction of Professor C. L. Seigel. Captain F. W. The next number on the programme clarinet solo, "Carnival de Venice," by Signor Felix Jardella, had to be omitted on account of the low pitch of the piano. Then followed Kreutzer's "Sabbath Day," Messrs. English, Cunningham, Watby Messrs. English, Cumbing Single kins, Hofiman. Harris, and Ramos, under the very able direction of Mr. B. Dashlell. This composition was exquisitely rendered, and an encore was demanded.

The Rev. Dr. Hawthorne followed next with a lecture on "Eloquent Oratory. This was the feature of the evening, and had the title been unannounced, the graceful, forcible, and beautiful diction of the orator would have at once suggested to the most btuse the subject of his discourse. He said that the effort in Maine and Kansas had proved futile, and that the liquor-laws of those States had been practically abandoned. He characterized it as a puritanical measure, which could result in nothing better than the en-couragement of secret drinking and the loss of large revenue to the State. He said that of large revenue to the State. He said that it would be impossible to enforce such a law in the cities, and he also claimed that it had been a failure in the counties. It might be, he said, that he was injuring himself in the estimation of the temperance people of Alexandria by the stand he had taken in this matter, but that would not change his opinion. Mr. Farr said that he was the first advoproved a success in his county. He op-posed any amendment, and favored the bill as it came from the committee. He didn't want any special elections.

Mr. Diekenson said this local-option question was like the small-pox—an epidemic. He didn't know what had caused anybody. On motion of Mr. Chase the pending question was ordered, and Mr. Stuart's amendment was defeated. The question then recurred on the substitute, which, after further remarks by Messrs, Stubbs, Stuart, Pollard, and Cardwell, was adopted. Mr. Cardwell wanted to offer an amend-of the proceedings.

During the discussion Mr. Cardwell said that in view of the numerous petitions which had been received it was the duty of The resolution which the Readjusters the Legislature to enact some law on the subject, but he didn't think this bill would accomplish the purpose. This bill would cause the introduction here of the "spottedpig" and "buttermilk" dodges which were practiced in Maine. He also objected to the special-election feature of Mr. Stubbs's substitute. The people were already cursed with elections.

Messrs, Lyons and T, Wiley Davis also spoke in favor of the bill, tee was in as good shape as it could be

The caucus did not take up the auditor-ship question. That is left in the hands of the leaders. They claim that by the accession of Mr. Wingtield of Hanover the deadlock is at end. The most important matter before it, so far as the Richmond people are concerned, was brought up by Mr. Lovenstein. He stated that a petition was in circulation, and had been shown him, requesting Mr. Atkinson and himself to vote to break up the deadlock. Mr. Lovenstein, while deeming it his duty to make this statement, said of course should be guided by this conference. Mr. Atkinson was not present, but un-doubtedly that is also his position. Of course the Richmond senators will act with their party. While good Democrats may have signed the petition alluded to they probably did it without thinking-without thinking that the Democratic policy is guided after conference of Coghill, Hanger, Thurman, Berry, Conrad, Stuart, Stubbs, and Loyell with their brother-members.

point, yet the meeting of the younger set at the residence of Mr. W. L. White, 712 cast Franklin street, was certainly none the less charming. A glance at the beautiful young misses who graced this dance gave some idea of the number of pretty young dévulantes who are soon to electrity Richmond society, and how many heartaches they will cause the beaux of the city time alone will tell.

MASK GERNAN AT MONTICELLO HALL .-One of the pleasantest entertainments of the season was the masquerade German last night at Monticello Hall, given by Mislast night at Monticello Hall, given by Miss. Thaw to her evening German class and invited guests. The festivities were begun at 9 o'clock by the grand march of all the folly maskers to the music of Professor. Trimmer's orchestra, and it is hard to imagine a more brilliant scene than was presented. Among the many v-ried and beautiful characters, perhaps, the most sented. Among the many veried and beautiful characters perhaps the most striking were Cigarette, Two Dromies, Monk, Humpty-Dumpty, Meekinsses Twinses, 1882, Tambourine Girl, Widow Bedott, Sunflower, Daniel Boone, and several young aesthetes. Dancing was kept up until a late hour, when, with many kindly greetings to Miss Thaw, to whose efforts the perfect success of the evening was chiefly due, the gay and brilliant company dispersed. pany dispersed.

EXTENSION OF THE STREET RAILWAY. -For a long time the Street Railway Com-For a long time the Street Railway Company has been trying to get permission from the City Council to extend its track up Main street west of Ninth street. At the last meeting of the Street Committee the question was brought up, resulting in the committee agreeing to recommend that the Railway Company be allowed to extend a double track up Main from Ninth street to Reservoir street.

The company endeavored to get the committee to relieve them of paving the street along the line of their track. The present along the line of their track. The present ordinance will require the Street Railway Company to pave eighteen out of the forty feet of roadway, which would involve an expense as great as the laying of the track. The company will ask to be relieved from that, and should the permission be granted work will be commenced in March and pushed to speedy completion in time for

Mr. Diekenson said this local-option question was like the small-pox—an epidemic. He didn't know what had caused it. He was in favor of passing this bill—throw it out as a tub to the whale. The bill didn't propose to force local option on anybody present moment to explain, and we are rather glad of it. Neither will any curious inquirer be likely to learn it from Mr. Wilde's lectures, as far is we are able to judge from his reporter. Be that as it may, there is enough of his spirit in this worthy old-fashioned city of ours to produce a very picturesque and charming costume-ball, and to lend an adment to the substitute, but the Chair decided that it was not in order at that stage winter season.
